Thumbs in Social Customs

Few persons realize how important a role the thumb has played in the social customs of the people.

Erskine records that among certain classes of people in Scotland the final settlement of a bargain was always signified by the licking and joining of thumbs.

Selden says that kissing the thumb was a characteristic of servility. The clergy, the rich and the great, were in receipt of this honor from tradesmen.

From remote times the practice of licking the thumb has been regarded as a solemn pledge or promise, existing, according to Tacitus and others, among the Goths, the Iberians and the Moors, and it may also be traced through successive periods down to the present time.

Washing day, or rather washing week, is so important a period in the Balkan region that all family and social obligations retire to the background when it has to be considered, writes a traveller. I have known a Cabinet Minister's wife to excuse herself from attendance at a court function because it collided with the appointment made with her laundress! This, too, in spite of the full quotient of servants, footman, cook, housemaid and old masters. None of these was privileged or efficient enough to meet the formidable laundress and satisfy her requirements. Therefore, the lady stayed at home to fill the breach, and a sympathetic queen accepted the explanation with a readiness born of full understanding.

The Terror of Asthma comes like a thief in the night with its dreadful throttling, robbing its victim of breath. It seems beyond the power of human aid to relieve until one trial is made of that remarkable preparation, Dr. J. C. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Then relief comes with a rush. Life becomes worth living, and if the remedy be used persistently, the disease is put permanently to rout. Take no substitute.

Parental Testimony

I don't blame young people for being rather self-confident and aggressive, said the conservative citizen.

You think the rising generation is entitled to consider itself superior?

Beyond question. You are constantly hearing parents telling what smart things their children say, but you never hear children repeating any clever observations by their parents.—Washington Star.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

The Way to Meet Work

The beauty of work depends upon the way we meet it—whether we arm ourselves each morning to attack it as an enemy that must be vanquished before lunch comes, or whether we open our eyes with the sunrise to welcome it as an approaching friend who will keep us delightful company all day and who will make us feel at evening that the day was well worth its fatigues.

City Life

I can't get much sleep these May mornings.

Why not?

Well, besides a garage, there are several stables in the back yard of my house.

Yes?

And as soon as the last joy rider gets in, the first milk wagon starts out.—Washington Herald.

RASH SO BAD BABY CAME NEAR DYING

Head Broke Out. Spread to Arms, Legs and Entire Body. Itched So He Would Scratch Until Blood Ran. One Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Him. Has Had No Return.

"When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and ran down that he took fainting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago, and there has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. O. Maitland, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

For more than a generation mothers have found a speedy, agreeable and economical treatment for their skin-tortured little ones in Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Although they are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each may be obtained free, from the Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 83 Columbus Ave., Boston, U.S.A.

GOOD HEALTH FOR YOUNG GIRLS

They Need the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

Perhaps you have noticed that your daughter in her "teens" has developed a fitful temper, is restless and excitable. That she complains of weakness and depression; feels tired out after a little exertion; appetite variable, complaints of headaches and is growing pale. In that case remember that the march of time is leading her on to womanhood, and that at this period a great responsibility rests upon mothers. These are symptoms of anaemia—that is bloodlessness, and no time should be lost in increasing and enriching the blood supply. Unhealthy girlhood almost always leads to unhealthy womanhood. All young girls in their teens need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich and increase the blood supply, and give sickly, drooping girls the brightness and charm of perfect health. In proof of this Miss Zola Gordier, Morrisburg, Ont., says: "I was pale and bloodless and suffered from many of the symptoms of anaemia. I would tire easily and suffered from frequent headaches. My appetite was poor and I was very pale and easily discouraged. The medicine I was taking did not seem to help me, and then, one day I read the story of a young girl who suffered similarly and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes of the pills and started to take them. Before they were done I began to feel better and look better. Then I got half a dozen more boxes, and before they were all used I was enjoying the best of health, and have continued to do so since. My young brother was troubled with rheumatism, and they completely cured him."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rome is busily laying plans for an electric railroad running to the sea coast at Ostia, together with a subway tunnel for the part which crosses town. Work will begin as soon as the Government grants the franchise. The subway starts from the centre of the town, near the Forum, and runs to the city limits at the St. Paul's Gate. It will accommodate a double-track tunnel. It is planned to finish the subway part of the line in three years, and then begin on the Rome-Ostia line, which will take about two years to build.

Examined in Can- ada Train

The made in Canada Train subsequently to stop at Olds and Innisfail on Friday last, through having to wait on a south bound train, was delayed at this point for about twenty minutes, and through this happening, a large number of our citizens were able to see the various exhibits on this train, which was in every way neatly arranged and gave the spectators a glimpse of what eastern manufacturers are doing. There were twelve cars in all.

If these manufacturing companies were to use more of the "Printers Ink," in the various papers throughout the West, we are safe in saying that greater would be their income.

Suddenly, as she passed Harry, she turned to stare in his face, and then burst into a shriek of rage.

"A Clavel!" she cried. "I know you by his wicked eyes. Give me your hat to hit you with!"

Stooping, she began to tear up by the roots the grass which bordered the graves and to fling handfuls of earth at Harry.

A little crowd gathered, and the woman was held back and remonstrated with.

"Tis Jenny Collet, poor soul!" a woman explained to Harry as he walked quickly away. "You mustn't mind her. She's been soft in the head since her husband was a-killed. She teases you for a Clavel, an' she hates the sight of us."

An overpowering restlessness came over Harry after luncheon, which on Sunday was a heavy and solemn rite, served by Mrs. Anning in a "tight gown of violet silk. The only literature available at the farm consisted of "Hymns Ancient and Modern," the back numbers of the "Grazier's Gazette," and some tales for the young. Harry was not in the mood for such innocuous reading, and at three o'clock he sallied forth, in a waterproof tweed shooting suit, gaiters and a deer-stalker cap, proof against all inclemencies of the weather. He had tramped for four miles along the Bloxham road, with his hands in his pockets and a cigarette in his mouth, when he saw approaching him a large closed conveyance, evidently a private carriage, drawn by two handsome horses. Private carriages were rare in the neighborhood from his experience, and as he stood aside to avoid the mud thrown up by the wheels he glanced towards the window of the vehicle.

Immediately the one before him was let down and the face of a very pretty woman was thrust forth excitedly. "Browning!" she cried to the coachman. "Stop, stop at once! This is the gentleman we are coming to see. Mr. Worth, we were going to visit you. This is my uncle, Mr. Denzil Warne."

Miss Morgan's uncle was a well-built man of sixty who looked much younger than his age. He was fresh-colored and fair, with sandy hair that was barely touched with grey. But in his light grey eyes and aquiline features, a harsh and disagreeable expression lingered. He was an unpopular man and he knew it and cared but little on the subject. He had loved his wife and his only son, and he had expended an astonishing amount of hatred upon the whole family of Claveis. These two outputs of feeling seemed to have exhausted his emotional stores, and he regarded people in general with cold distrust. He did not want to be bothered with his niece, but he had sent for her in order to prevent his housekeeper from trying to marry him, and for the purpose of annoying some nephews and nieces with whom he had quarrelled.

Like many disagreeable men, however, Denzil Warne could at times show much urbanity, especially when he considered that his social position required it. He greeted Harry now with something like warmth of manner.

"I wanted very much to meet you, Mr. Claverworth," he said, "to express my obligation to you for the plucky way in which you stopped my niece's horse last Thursday. I have only just come to know of it, or I should have called on you before. We have come to carry you off to dinner, if you have nothing more amusing to do on a wet Sunday evening. Jump in now, and we'll take you back with us to Vale House."

CHAPTER XXII Lady Anne's Picture

Harry did what he could to get out of the invitation, but Denzil Warne insisted upon his accepting it.

"I am much too wet to enter your carriage," the young man protested. "And I can't dine with you in a tweed shooting suit."

He would have been glad of the break in a dull day, but for the fact that neither his host nor Lillas Morgan had the least idea that he was in reality one of the hated Claveis. He noticed that Mr. Warne called him Lillas, had mispronounced his name, either intentionally or by accident, in speaking of him. But whatever his scruples were, he had no chance of paying attention to them, for Mr. Warne declared that "one dressed as one liked here in the wilds," and that, as Harry was about his own size he could lend him some dress clothes for the occasion while his own suit was being dried.

The carriage had turned off the Bloxham road during the discussion and passed through lonely country roads bordered by stone quarries and past a few scattered dairy farms into the more precipitous region of the "Downs" and "Barrows." Beyond them the carriage entered through the gates of an unpretentious lodge, the private grounds of Vale House.

The building lay in a valley sheltered by steep uplands; it was surrounded by trees, and commanded splendid views of sea and land in every direction.

The house was a huge grey stone erection of Georgian days, mirrored in a lake. There was an unhomeliness about the place inside and out, in spite of its beautiful surroundings and the wealth of its owner. The guest-room into which Harry was shown looked sufficiently chilly and repellent to shorten the stay of any visitor, and the servant who showed him to it was grim and melancholy of aspect as an undertaker's assistant. He laid a suit of his master's on a sofa covered by stiff red and white chintz, and Harry was glad to change for he felt he could not appear unceremoniously in that austere establishment.

"If you are ready, sir, Miss Morgan would like to offer you a cup of tea," Harry followed the man-servant along a corridor and down a staircase and through a great drawing-room wherein the furniture was all chintz-shrouded, to a cozy little apartment in which two ladies were seated at tea.

How early must I get up in the morning? she inquired.

Dysentery corrodes the intestines and speedily eats away the lining, bringing about dangerous conditions that may cause death. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial cures the intestinal canals of the germs that cause the inflammation, and by protecting the lining from further ravages restores them to healthy condition. Those subject to dysentery should not be without this simple yet powerful remedy.

Not Like Mother Made

Johnny and his mother were dining with a friend. The first course was chicken soup with macaroni in it. The hostess watched Johnny as he sat quietly gazing into his plate. Finally she asked:

"Why don't you eat your soup, Johnny?"

"I don't care for it, please, ma'am. But your mamma said you liked chicken soup."

"I do like mamma's chicken soup, but she don't put the wind-pipes in—Judge."

Cited an Exception

A religious worker, while visiting a Western town, gave a "Talk for Men," during the course of which he expressed his conviction that no young man should visit any place to which he would not feel justified in taring his own sister.

Is there any young man present who thinks one may safely disregard this wise rule? asked the speaker.

Whereupon a youth in the rear of the hall stood up and said in a loud stentorian tone:—

Yes, sir. I do.

And what, sir, demanded the angry and surprised speaker, is the place which you yourself would think of visiting to which you could not take your sister?

The barber's shop, replied the youth.

Lord Roseberry, in a London address on tuberculosis, said that preventive measures had reduced the mortality from consumption in London by 33 per cent. between 1901 and 1909, and by 14 per cent. in England and Wales for the same period. Nearly forty thousand lives were saved which would have been lost under the average conditions of the decade of 1871-1880.

Holes in Her Stockings

The eternal feminine crops out in the current story of the nervous woman to whom the throat specialist, while adjusting a larynx, preparatory to an examination, remarked:

Madame, you'd be surprised to hear how far down we men see with this wonderful instrument.

A pause followed, and then the patient faltered:

Doctor, before you begin, perhaps I ought to tell you that I really hadn't time to mend the holes in my stockings before I came here.

Her expression of concern over appearances was as instinctive as that of the tidy New England mother who rushed from the kitchen into the hall after a crash, and enquired if any oil had been spilled on the carpet, when her daughter fell down the front stairs with a kerosene lamp.

Evening Things up

What did Mrs. Kloseman give you for cutting her grass? asked Tommy's mother.

Nothing, replied Tommy.

Why, she promised you 10 cents, didn't she?

Yes, but I used her sickle to do it with, and she charged me 10 cents for the use of it.—Catholic Standard and Times.

For ten years past, said the new boarder at the seaside, my habits have been regular as clockwork.

The Kaiser's Daughter

Before setting out for Vienna and Venice, William II, Emperor of Germany awaited at Berlin for his daughter, whom he calls his "best boy." She whom he calls his "best boy." She returned from Switzerland, where she made, according to the official version, a sojourn for her health. The gossip of the German court says this was really a lark to escape from the presence of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, to whom they wish to marry her without her consent. The Emperor and Empress were at the station when she arrived.

Hardly had the train stopped when the Princess hastily descended from the coach, and throwing herself impetuously into the arms of her father, exclaimed: "I will not marry him." The Emperor, smiling enigmatically responded: "I shall occupy myself with this alliance after the others." It is now said that this marriage can never take place, as the Grand Duke has withdrawn from the field.

The Kaiser has taken the Princess to Italy, and travel sometimes changes one's ideas.—Le Cri de Paris.

The Poet

The poet sang of sparkling rills
And bursting buds and country lanes
And violets and daffodils
And sweet, refreshing April rains,
All muffled up and having chills,
And doped with seven kinds of pills,
He sat where smoke and fog were thick,
And looking from his window where
It furnished little light or air,
Saw but a wall composed of brick
And as he looked and as he wrote
A lump rose in the poet's throat.
For he was weak and sad and sick
Fear, he said beneath his breath
That I am doomed to starve to death
Unless I sell this mighty quick.
Therefore the poet wrote away,
Of promises that spring fulfill,
And bravely let his fancy stray
To gladness over distant hills.

"During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used in all seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female derangements."

CANADA TO PARTICIPATE IN PROPOSED PEACE CELEBRATION

Will Join With Great Britain and the United States in Celebration of One Hundred Years of Peace
Between English Speaking Nations

Ottawa.—Canada has taken steps to join with Great Britain and the United States in joining two years from now in the proposed celebration of the hundred years of peace between the two great branches of the English-speaking people.

The decision to do so was reached at probably the most representative gathering ever held in Ottawa. Under the presidency of Sir Edmund Walker, statesmen, leaders in intellectual thought, captains of industry and representative women gathered together to arrange for Canada's participation in the peace centennial.

A representative committee was appointed to draw up the basis of the association which will be formed to arrange for Canada's co-operation and there is every prospect that it will be fully representative of every part of the Dominion.

Sam Baker, M.P., of Hamilton, moved that Sir Edmund Walker take the chair, and this was carried. Sir Edmund made a statement as to the object of the gathering, explaining that a committee formed in the United States has been at work on the project for some time, and that considerable correspondence had been carried on with that committee. Steps had also been taken in Great Britain for that purpose. It having become necessary for some one to take the first step, a circular had been issued, in response to which the gathering of today had taken place. Sir Edmund added some observations as to the interest of the English-speaking world in the passage of the Treaty of Ghent, which had started this period of peace.

Hon. G. H. Perley read a letter from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, stating that he was confined to his home with lumbago, and would not be able to be present much to his regret.

Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, speaking on behalf of the government, expressed his pleasure at seeing so many prominent and distinguished citizens of Canada present, and to express the interest and sympathy of the government with the object of celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of peace between Great Britain and the United States, the two great branches of the English-speaking peoples of the world.

It will be a great, a unique occasion, although I am happy to say that in one year Great Britain and France will be able to celebrate a like occasion. A resolution was adopted authorizing the formation of the Canada peace centennial, the formation of which was left to a committee composed of Sir Edmund Walker, Toronto, chairman; Hon. W. T. White, Hon. G. H. Perley, Hon. T. W. Crothers, Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Ottawa; Chief Justice Sir William Mulock, Toronto; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Ottawa; Hon. Mackenzie King, Ottawa; Sir R. W. Scott, Ottawa; Hon. David Laird, Ottawa; Hon. J. A. Mathieson, premier Prince Edward Island.

Sub-committees for the western provinces were named as follows: Manitoba—Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, Winnipeg; J. A. M. Atkins, M.P., Winnipeg; Sanford Evans, Winnipeg; J. W. Daffoe, Winnipeg; M. E. Nichols, Winnipeg; R. L. Richardson, Winnipeg; Rev. S. G. Chown, D.D., Winnipeg.

Sask.—Bishop of Qu'Appelle, F. W. G. Haultain, M.P.P., Commissioner Perry, R.N.W.M.P.; Senator Douglas, President Walter H. Murray, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon.

Alberta—Justice H. Harvey, Edmonton; Bishop of St. Albert, Archdeacon Robins, Athabasca Landing; Lieut.-Col. Cruickshank, D.O.C., Calgary; F. A. Morrison, Vegreville, President Tory, University of Alberta, Edmonton; Principal S. W. Doyle, Edmonton; Rev. D. G. McQueen, D.D., Edmonton; Rev. J. A. Clark, Calgary; British Columbia—Hon. R. McBride, Victoria; Hon. C. H. Tupper, Vancouver; F. C. Wade, Vancouver; G. H. Cowan, Vancouver; Archbishop McNell, Vancouver; Rev. Principal MacKay, Vancouver; Clive Phillips, Woolley; R. E. Gosnell, Victoria.

H-B. RAILWAY TENDERS

Government Will Let Work on Second Section of Sixty Eight Miles

Ottawa.—Within the next few days the Department of Railways will advertise for tenders for the second section of the Hudson Bay Railway. The Encounter will be recommissioned with specially qualified officers and a nucleus crew. The note imparting this information to the Australian government concludes: "We will continue to aid in the development of the Australian fleet by every means in our power."

WANTS FIRST WRIGHT CRAFT

Englishman Urges That it be Placed Beside Stephenson's Rocket

London.—The writer of a letter in the Daily Mail suggests that now is the time for the British nation to obtain one of the original Wright biplanes at comparatively moderate cost. He points out that at the South Kensington Museum is George Stephenson's locomotive, the Rocket, a symbol of the great world transport revolution of the nineteenth century, and adds:

"Why not possess ourselves of a national memorial to a great man by buying at once an example of the great transport invention of the twentieth century?"

Looking Toward the Future

Calgary, Alta.—The gathering of representatives of Western boards of trade in Calgary during the exhibition week in July is regarded as the most important meeting of commercial bodies yet held in Western Canada. The principal interest of the meeting will be the discussion of conditions and opportunities likely to be brought about by the opening of the Panama canal. The opinion is becoming general that long before the opening of the canal the C.P.R. will have double-tracked its road from Brandon to the Pacific Coast, as double rails are already laid from Lake Superior to Brandon; and given at that it is likely to tax the resources of railways and Canadian steamship lines plying between Vancouver and Liverpool via the canal to take the grain crops out of the country each season.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier's Trip

Ottawa.—The Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, will leave Canada at the end of the month or the beginning of July for a trip to England and France. The Hon. Mr. Pelletier will combine rest with business for at present he is far from well and hopes to secure some of his lost health by the ocean voyage. While in England he will take up the subject of cheaper cable rates as he promised last session, it is hoped, and while in France, the question of postal rates will be discussed.

TO ESTABLISH SAMPLE MARKETS

September of Next Year the Opening—Expert Buyers, Capital and Organization Necessary

Ottawa.—Hon. G. E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, in a statement given to the public says:

Since the agitation for government elevators, private capital has kept largely out of the business of providing terminal storage. The uncertainty prevented decisive action. No one cared to go ahead, until the business was on a permanent basis. With the notices given, the individuals and companies will now know the policy to be pursued and can make arrangements accordingly.

The main portion of the statement given is to the effect that sample markets will be established by order-in-council in September, 1913.

Notice is necessary, says Mr. Foster, in order that the desired competition as is essential for a sample market may be had. Expert buyers will have to be on hand, possibly more capital and organization must be put into the buying process and terminal facilities be provided for storage and blending.

Cubans to Arm With Krag-Jorgensen Rifles

Washington.—The state department authorized the war department to honor the application of the Cuban government for 5,000 rifles and one million rounds of ammunition, which are to be used to arm the volunteers and the guards organized by the plantation owners to protect their property against the insurgents.

President Gomez wanted the latest type of Springfield rifle similar to the 10,000 already supplied to the Cuban army. When it was found that such arms could not be sold without express authority from Congress, and as it would take some time to secure the necessary legislation, the Cuban government decided to accept Krag-Jorgensen rifles instead.

These are practically new weapons, and put in thorough order when having been supplied with new barrels and set apart to form a reserve supply of about 100,000 stand to equip a volunteer army in case of need.

The weapons will be sold to the Cuban government at about $5 each, plus express charges.

Canada's Exhibit at Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Wis.—The controversy between the land department of the Canadian government and the Wisconsin State Fair Board took on a more serious aspect on Monday, when an official order was received from the government at Ottawa by the representative of the land department in Milwaukee that money in any amount must not be spared to make the Canadian exposition here at the time of the state fair the greatest Canadian exposition ever held in the United States. The order further stated that the 75th Cameron Highlanders band of Winnipeg, will be ordered to Milwaukee for fair week and that a parade over two miles in length of Canadian grown products of the soil will be organized. Several hundred Canadian horses from the Northwest will be sent to draw the monster floats.

ENDORSES IMPERIAL FLEET

J. Norton Griffiths Approves of Suggestion Emanating From Canada

London.—Speaking at Staffordshire J. Norton Griffiths, M.P., said that he endorsed to the full Hon. Winston Churchill's suggestion which emanated from some of Canada's leading journals for the creation of a great imperial fleet, controlled by a special board of the admiralty, composed of representatives of the dominions and the mother country. Such a board would gradually absorb the present board of the admiralty and would lead to the creation of the greatest and most powerful fleet within the power of the British Empire to create. Were a spot like Malta in the Mediterranean chosen as headquarters, it would be an excellent base from which at chosen times, they could visit the different dominions and pay these visits of courtesy to foreign countries which the great trade of the empire demanded.

Indians Held for Murder

Medicine Hat.—At the inquest at Bassano to inquire into the death of Mounted policeman F. Davies, who was found foully murdered on Monday night, some damaging evidence was submitted against the two Indians and the squaw who are under arrest charged with the officer's death.

During the course of the examination it was found that there were blood stains on the clothes of one of the bucks. This, he said, was caused by his nose bleeding. He seemed rather backward in talking about it.

The officers also stated that when they arrested the Indians they found he mounted policeman's guns, belt chaps and horse in their possession, while one of them had the officer's purse and money in his possession. The officers ventured the suggestion that the blood on the Indian's clothes got there when he was rifling the pockets of the officer after the deed. The officer when found was lying in a pool of blood.

The chief of police of Bassano and two of his men arrested the two bucks and the squaw, the latter with her little spouse. They were sleeping dead drunk, at the Indian reservation between Bassano and South-east. In this condition they were unable to offer any resistance and before they became aware of the fact they were secured.

Belgium in State of Eruption

Brussels.—Belgium is in a state of eruption on account of the recent elections and rioting throughout the country has taken on a revolutionary character.

Many persons have been killed or wounded in various cities and a large number of reserves have been called to the colors.

The agitation in the industrial centres is rapidly increasing; every hour brings news of fresh protests by the laboring classes against the government.

The national disorders generally are attributed to the acute disappointment of the laboring classes over the pronounced victory of the clericals in the recent elections. The Socialists allied themselves with the Liberals on the public school question in opposition to the policy hoping thereby to win a majority of the seats in the Chamber.

Their failure to do so caused a wave of anger to sweep over the country.

The latest reports from the provinces show that the strike has spread over the entire Liege basin and has tied up most of the collieries and big metal industries.

Cost of Living Was Never Higher

New York.—It costs more to live in this month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States except perhaps during war times. Prices were high a year ago, but today they are on the average nearly 10 per cent higher, according to trade authorities quotations.

Food products are the highest on record. Meat, eggs, butter, fish, potatoes, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, molasses, rice, beans and peas average 22 per cent higher and wheat, corn, oats, barley, flour, etc. 33 per cent higher.

Fruits are the only thing good to eat that have grown cheaper during this last twelve months but they are still higher than in 1910. Leather products cost 12 per cent, and chemicals and drugs 13 per cent more than a year ago. Textile goods, however, are a trifle cheaper.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON: XI.—SECOND QUARTER,
FOR JUNE 16, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xli, 2-19. Memory Verses, 5:6—Golden Text, Luke vii, 23. R.V.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

According to the harmony of the gospels, the Sermon on the Mount was followed by His using Simon Peter's boat as a pulpit and then filling their net with fishes after a night of fruitless toil. After that came the healing of the leper and the palsied man, the call of Matthew and the feast he prepared in his own house, the healing of the impotent man at Bethesda, the man in the exorcism with the withered hand, the night of prayer, the choosing of the twelve, the sermon on the plain, the healing of the centurion's servant, the raising to life of the widow's son and much preaching day by day. Whether this is quite correct as to the order of events or not is not all important if we can by faith see ourselves day by day with Him who, being acquainted with the Holy Ghost and with power, went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, God being with Him, and doing through Him the miracles and signs and wonders (Acts x, 38, II, 22).

There was one great and good man who did not see these wonders of His power from day to day, for he was shut up in a prison for the truth's sake, but he heard of them and evidently wondered why the one upon whom he had seen the Spirit descend like a dove at the baptism of John, he had been told by God, was the Messiah and whom he had pointed out as the Lamb of God (John i, 31-36), did not deliver him from prison, for it had been predicted concerning Him that He would proclaim liberty to the captives and the opening of the prison to them that are bound (Isa. lxi, 1). As far as we know Jesus never visited John in prison nor sent him any message up to the time, and the father of lies was no doubt very busy with John questioning the way of God and the love of God and insinuating that, after all, John must have been mistaken in pointing out Jesus as the Messiah. If John had not been in some way and in some measure offended with Jesus would He have sent him the message He did. "Blessed is he who ever, shall not be offended in Me" (Verse 6). To the question of John through the two disciples whom he sent, "Art thou he that should or do we look for another?" (verse 3), Jesus in that same hour wrought many miracles and said, "Go your way and tell John what things ye have seen and heard," and then He added the word about not being offended (Luke vii, 20-23). At one time Jesus said to the Jews, "If I do not the works of my Father believe Me not, but if I do, though ye believe not Me, believe the works that ye may know and believe that the Father is in Me and I in Him" (John x, 37, 38). All this is in accord with last week's lesson on the necessity of works as an evidence, and doing always proceeds teaching. (Matt. v, 19; Mark vi, 30; Acts i, 1, 19; Luke xli, 19). Notwithstanding all His mighty works on behalf of Israel when and after He had brought them out of Egypt, they were constantly being offended with Him and murmuring against Him. They spoke against Him, they believed not in Him, they provoked Him, they forgot Him, and many a time He, being full of compassion, turned His anger away from them, for He remembered that they were his flesh (Is. lxxviii). What a picture of ourselves and how much we need that absolute confidence in Him and obedience in Him at all times which will then keep us from ever being offended (John xvi, 1-4).

The disciples of John having departed, Jesus said to the multitudes that John was a reed shaken with the wind nor was he indeed the messenger predicted by Isaiah, and no greater prophet was ever born of woman, and if they had received him he would have been to them Elijah. Compare Matt. xli, 12, 13, but do not fail to notice in the preceding verses that the real Elijah is yet to come. The saying, "He that is least in the kingdom of Heaven is greater than he," (verse 11), has perplexed many because they have not noticed the meaning of "the kingdom" and have not understood that the kingdom cannot come until the King comes back again. Then the least in his resurrection glory will be greater than John was, and John himself will be greater than he ever was before. The kingdom was at hand when Jesus was on earth. It was in their midst in His person, as He said in Luke xvi, 21, margin, but they did not recognize Him or it, but by force resisted it, ill treating John and later Himself and doing to both as their rebellious wicked hearts prompted them. He therefore told them plainly that the kingdom would not come at that time and not until His return (Luke xix, 11-13). I am continually perplexed by statements from men who ought to understand about the extension and the advancement of a kingdom that is not yet begun. Neither John nor Jesus Christ can please some people, and the number of those whom the Bible does not suit seems to be increasing, but the word of the Lord stands, and "wisdom is vindicated by her actions" (verse 19, Weymouth).

Ready to Listen

Can I talk to you a few minutes? asked the life insurance agent.

Yes, replied the superintendent of the factory, if you don't mind walking about the building with me. I haven't really the time to sit down.

That's all right, said the agent. I'd rather move around a little, anyhow.

The superintendent led the way out of the pattern-room, thence into the wood-workers' department, stopping every moment or two to converse with some operative, and took his caller at last into the room where the huge hammers were filling the air with their unearthly din.

Now, he said, yelling into the ear of the life insurance man, I am ready to listen to you. Go ahead.

A SLUGGISH TORPID LIVER

LEAVES BILE AND OTHER POISONOUS IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

The Whole System is Cleaned and Invigorated by

Let the liver get sluggish and torpid and there is trouble with all the vital organs.

The tongue is coated, the head aches, digestion fails. There is fullness, fermentation, flatulency in the stomach. The bowels are constipated and loose by turns. The kidneys become clogged and inactive. Even the skin tells of the poisoned state of the system by pimples, blotches and liver spots.

The action of the liver must be awakened, and nothing can accomplish this so quickly and so certainly as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all its impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is torpid.

Many a suffering man and many a despondent woman has been cured of liver complaint and kidney derangements by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By their direct and combined action on both liver and kidneys they have often proved successful when mere kidney medicines have failed.

Backache, Kidney Disease, Liver Complaint, Chronic Indigestion and Constipation are thoroughly cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

It Has Many Qualities.—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas Electric Oil is armed against many ills. It will cure a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, cure the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself, and can be got for a quarter of a dollar.

A Nasty Insinuation

It was a divorce, and the detective witness came to the stand dressed in black broadcloth, wore a gold fob, and seals, and looked much more like a respectable middle-aged solicitor than a member of the police force. The man's testimony was damaging to his client, so the learned counsel began his cross-examination very gently and was excessively polite.

I believe you are John Blank, of the firm of Blank and Co., the eminent detectives.

Yes, sir, said the witness, I represent that firm.

And I presume, continued the counsel that in the course of your duties as a detective you have at times, to assume many disguises?

Yes, sir.

Then, said the counsel, smiling, will you have the goodness to tell the court just what you are disguised as now?

It isn't the size of the gift but the spirit that goes with it that counts, she said softly.

Who is going to get a twenty-five cent present from us now? asked her husband promptly.

What is the use of this article? asked a shopper.

I really don't know, replied the clerk. I think it is intended to be sold for a birthday present.

Dearest, if I were far, far away, could you love me still?

Why, Reggie, what a question! I'm sure the farther you were away the better I should love you.

WELL POSTED

A California Doctor With 40 Years Experience

"In my 40 years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people."

"I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use."

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts, and Postum in place of coffee, when giving my patients instructions as to diet for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone."

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order."

"In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am almost certain to have trouble with my stomach." Name given by mail by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape Nuts as the most scientific food in the world. "There's a reason."

Siamese Elephants

Siam is pre-eminently the land of animals and not a few of those which pass and repass in the course of the day's work keep the new arrival waiting to hear a steam calliope inform the countryside that a circus is in town. There goes the sacred Indian buffalo! But this time he and his brother are only going under the charge of two small boys, down into the rice paddy behind the temple to plough. Stripped of all his gay trappings, the elephant, no longer a mere show, goes peacefully, patiently and intelligently about his Herculean tasks. Two of these splendid animals carried or dragged all the heavy timber for the boy's school which was recently erected at Nan.

The whole elephant tribe is looked upon with great veneration by the Siamese. The elephant is the symbolic animal of the country, and though his ponderous strength is daily used in his master's service, he is man's co-laborer, not his beast of burden. Lucky is that elephant which is born an albino; for he shall be all his days a sacred white elephant, scrubbed and fattened and pampered, and he shall do no work at all. Even the baby that is a little lighter grey than his relatives may attain to greatness. Only a few months ago one of these baby elephants that was only light grey in color, not a true albino, was shipped with great ceremony from Laos to the King at Bangkok. Animals large and small abound in the jungles and along the waterways. No trip need be taken without a plentiful supply of game, for "fan" deer, quail, queen pigeons and peafowl may be had for the table at the expense of a little patience and a good straight shot.—Christian Herald.

ANOTHER SPLENDID CURE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

R. Moulaison, whom two Doctors treated, finds relief and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Surette Island, Yarmouth Co., N.S. (Special).—Mr. Renie Moulaison, a well known resident here, is telling his neighbors of his cure from a severe attack of Kidney Disease which kept him in a state of pain and suspense for two months and defied the efforts of two doctors who were treating him.

"My trouble started with a cold," Mr. Moulaison says. "My muscles would cramp and I had backache and dizzy spells. My head ached, and I had a tired, nervous feeling while specks of light flashed in front of my eyes."

"I suffered in this way for over two months and was treated by two doctors, but they didn't seem to be able to do much for me. Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped me almost at once. Six boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the kidneys. Cured kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That makes pure blood and good health.

Mrs. A.—Are you troubled much in your neighborhood with borrowing?

Mrs. B. (innocently)—Yes, a good deal. My neighbors don't seem to have anything I want.

An Always Ready Pill.—To those of regular habit medicine is of little concern, but the great majority of men are not of regular habit. The worry and cares of business prevent it, and out of the irregularity of life comes dyspepsia, indigestion, liver and kidney troubles as a protest. The run-down system demands a corrective and there is none better than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple in their composition and can be taken by the most delicately constituted.

Post—Do you think the day will come when there will be no coal left on earth?

Parker—Well, it won't be our cook's fault if it doesn't.—Life.

The Sultan's Palace

The Moorish palace of Sultan Abu Yakub Yussuf at Seville—known today as the "Alcazar"—contains one of the most elaborate practical jokes extant. When in a gay mood some important merchant or notable of Seville would receive a pressing invitation summoning him to the presence. In a fever of delighted expectancy the flattered guest would don his whitest raiment and hie him to the palace. There he would be ceremoniously conducted to the gardens and directed up the long avenue. Half way up it he would inevitably tread upon a moving flagstone resting upon a spring, and immediately fine jets of water would gush out of the ground and from the surrounding shrubbery and drench him. Amid the jeers of the courtiers the luckless and bedraggled wight would beat an undignified retreat. Before he was allowed to leave the palace, however, he was sworn to secrecy on pain of death. At all costs nothing must make the joke fall flat when repeated. The treacherous flagstone has been removed and to-day the visitor may pass with impunity, but a peseta to the head gardener will usually cause the fountains to play.—The Argonaut.

Force of Habit

He had a motor-car, but he also wanted a motor-boat, and so he bought one. He had a day's tuition at one of those places where they guarantee to teach you anything in twenty-four hours, and then went on a trial trip alone.

It was late when he returned home. He came in by the back way. His clothes were wet and his hair hanging over his ears in strings.

John! exclaimed his wife. What on earth—

It's all right, Mary, he assured her. No, I didn't upset. Everything's all right. But when I had been out on the water a couple of hours the motor went wrong and—

Yes—
Well, before I—er—realized it I was over the side and trying to get under the confounded thing to fix it.

A bill of 60 cents from Mr. Perrin for minute book was ordered paid.

The matter of prices paid to the farmers for Milk shipped to Calgary was brought up. The secretary reported writing to all shipping points on the matter, and read an answer from Carstairs, in which the secretary that Board of Trade promised to interview shippers on the matter.

Mr. Leach reported having met farmers in Dillsbury who were dissatisfied, and who are forming a Milk Association in connection with the Board of Trade.

It was moved by Riley & Rutledge that Bowden Board of Trade cooperate with any movement along these lines, and also in the direction of getting better freight rates, on milk and cream.

A communication was read from the C. P. R. Industrial Department asking for statistics of Bowden, for incorporation in a pamphlet published by the Department.
This was left to the secretary to answer.

The secretary was also instructed to write Hon. Duncan Mor-shall on the Matter of Rural telephones, as the time is passed when construction of same should have commenced. The secretary was also asked to write about road grant for the district. Furthermore he instructed to write or see Superintendent of C. P. R. asking if the fence to the south of the depot could not be moved so that Milk shippers would not have so far to carry their cans, when coming in from the west.

The meeting then adjourned.
Another meeting will be held on Friday evening next, June 28th in the I. O. O. F. Hall, in which it is expected there will be considerable business transacted.
Come ye citizens, to the meeting and help make this meeting one of the best ever.

Orange Notes

An important County Meeting of the Loyal Orange Association was held in the Masonic hall, Bowden, on Friday last. There were two sessions, afternoon and evening, presided over by C. M.
George Towers. A large number of officers and brethren were present from Red Deer, Innisfail and Bowden. Much important business was transacted and it was agreed to hold the next County meeting at Innisfail in February, 1913. At the close of the routine business a Royal Scarlet Chapter was opened, with Mrs. F. E. Piper in the chair. Ten members applied for admission into the Scarlet Degree and the Ballst being favourably received, the ten members were then initiated into the Scarlet Mysteries, this beautiful ceremony being put on in an impressive and dignified manner.

During the evening the Bowden Lodge entertained its visitors and members to an excellent Banquet served by bro. C. Johnston at the Alma Cafe. This was one of the best meetings Bowden Lodge has enjoyed for a long time.
